

Your impact through Friends of Creation

Your support is already making a real difference for communities around Lake Chad. This overview of project impact so far shows just a few highlights of the difference you're making possible through Friends of Creation.

Expanding gender-responsive nature-based solutions

2.3x
higher adoption of crop diversity

Crop diversity practices increased from 23% to 53% among project participants.

2,287

women and girls

actively participate in Farmer Field Schools.

35,000+
seedlings planted

35,763 seedlings planted to support agroforestry, land restoration, and ecosystem resilience (from 69,401 seedlings produced).

Building climate-resilient livelihoods and skills

44

groups generating livelihoods

44 income-generating groups established, with strong women's participation across communities (83%).

climate-resilient infrastructure

Construction beginning on infrastructure resilient to climate impacts, including small-scale irrigation.

knowledge generation

Scholarship program supporting 15 early-career research professionals from Chad and Cameroon.

Church and community support

$695,000

raised

$695,000 raised so far by Canadian churches for Friends of Creation

85 congregations

participating in the Friends of Creation challenge.

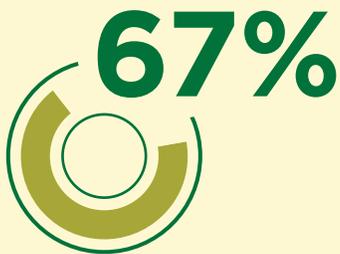

70

communities

70 communities across Canada with an active or complete Friends of Creation campaign.

Strengthened governance increase in women's leadership

15% of women participants now hold leadership roles, up from a baseline of 9%.

500+

engaged

More than 500 community members joined local disaster risk reduction committees, strengthening community preparedness and climate resilience.

inclusive governance

3.4 x

The share of governance bodies rated as highly inclusive increased from 14% at baseline to 47%.

