1. God, who this world cre - a - ted, send forth Your ho - ly breath,
2. God, who en - graved each val - ley and set forth gush - ing streams
3. God, sculp - tor of our bod - ies, who gives us what we need
4. God, who com - mands the or - bit of sun, earth, moon and stars
5. God, who for us has plan - ted a gar - den that sus - tains,
6. God, auth - or of ex - is - tence, we yield to Your com - mand.

re - new the lands You've sculp - ted, a - - bused by our neg - lect.
that flow be - tween the mount - ains and nur - tures liv - ing things.
from hands di - vine out - stretch - ing, we are de - signed for peace.
that dic - tate to cre - a - tion when la - bor ends and starts.
pro - vid - ing food and shel - ter on this, Your rich do - main.
You set the world's foun - da - tions and o - ver it You stand.

God, Who This World Created (Hicks)

O bril - li - ant Cre - a - tor, we call up - on Your name;
O bril - li - ant Cre - a - tor, our thirs - ty souls You quench;
O bril - li - ant Cre - a - tor, we find our peace in You;
O bril - li - ant Cre - a - tor, who gives our work in - tent;
O bril - li - ant Cre - a - tor, who feeds us from the earth;
O bril - li - ant Cre - a - tor, grant us the sight to see;

Be with us in our mis - sion: cre - a - tion_ to re - claim.
Be with us in our mis - sion: the drough - ted_ land to drench.
Be with us in our mis - sion: all con - flicts to sub - due.
Be with us in our mis - sion: Your will to_ rep - re - sent.
Be with us in our mis - sion: all fam - ine_ to re - verse.
with - out Your in - ter - ven - tion our mis - sion could not be.

1. God, who this world created, send forth Your holy breath,
renew the lands You've sculpted, abused by our neglect.
O brilliant Creator, we call upon Your name;
Be with us in our mission: creation to reclaim.
2. God, who engraved each valley and set forth gushing streams that flow between the mountains and nurtures living things.
O brilliant Creator, our thirsty souls You quench;
Be with our us in our mission: the droughted lands to drench.
3. God, sculptor of our bodies, who gives us what we need
from hands divine outstretching, we are designed for peace.
O brilliant Creator, we find our peace in You;
Be with us in our mission: all conflicts to subdue.
4. God, who command the orbit of sun, earth, moon and stars
that dictate to creation when labor ends and starts.
O brilliant Creator, who gives our work intent;
Be with us in our mission: Your will to represent.
5. God, who for us has planted a garden that sustains,
providing food and shelter on this, Your rich domain.
O brilliant Creator, who feeds us from the earth;
Be with us in our mission: all famine to reverse.
6. God, author of existence, we yield to Your command.
You set the world's foundations and over it You stand.
O brilliant Creator, grant us the sight to see;
without Your intervention our mission could not be.
