

Sponsor an acre of Saskatchewan
farmland for $350

After harvest, your acre will be worth as much as $600

That money will be matched by the government, which means the $350 you spent to sponsor an acre will turn into as much as $3,000

Isaiah 58:10 says, "Feed the hungry, and help those in trouble. Then your light will shine out from the darkness, and the darkness around you will be bright as noon."

Grow Hope offers a way to be part of that light and respond to God's call with compassion and action.

This project is rooted in the belief that restoring our relationship with God also means caring for one another and for creation. By sharing from our abundance with those facing hunger, we become part of a bigger story of healing and hope.

Grow hope.

Saskatchewan

Bringing Together Rural & Urban Canadians to share in the risk and reward of farming until all are fed.

For over 45 years, farmers across Canada have supported the work of ending global hunger through growing projects with the Canadian Foodgrains Bank. Grow Hope is one way you can join in and be part of this ongoing story.

With Grow Hope Saskatchewan, you can become a virtual farmer by sponsoring an acre of farmland. Your support helps grow real crops on Saskatchewan soil, and the proceeds provide both emergency food and long-term food security to communities around the world.

This project is a joint initiative of partner agencies with the Canadian Foodgrains Bank: Mennonite Central Committee Saskatchewan, Development and Peace Caritas Canada, Canadian Baptist Ministries, the Synod of Saskatchewan of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, Alongside Hope, and Canadian Lutheran World Relief.

Together we are working to end global hunger and care for those with limited access to food. It's a powerful example of what we can do when we come together in hope.

HOW IT WORKS

1. Generous farmers in Saskatchewan have agreed to donate land and grow a crop for Grow Hope.
2. Generous people like you sponsor the growth of a crop with a donation to help cover the input expenses. It costs up to $350 per acre to provide seed, fertilizer, fuel and other things needed to grow a crop.

3. After harvest, farmers sell the crop and donate the proceeds to the partners of Grow Hope. The proceeds from the sale can be as much as $600 per acre or more.
4. These funds are often matched by the Government of Canada, anywhere from a 1:1 to a 4:1 ratio and distributed to the partner agencies of the Foodgrains Bank and their projects.

A $350 donation can grow in value to $600 or more, and then be matched up to $3000 per acre. It's a powerful way to turn generosity into lasting impact.

Throughout the growing season, sponsors get updates from the field and resources to learn more about global hunger and farming. You'll also be invited to connect with farmers and other Grow Hope supporters.

It's a meaningful and fun experience for all ages.
